

You Are Invited To A Very Special Exhibit:

HELEN SUZMAN: FIGHTER FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

The exhibition, which chronicles her courageous efforts in photographs, will be on public display and free of charge at several university venues while in Oklahoma. It will debut at Langston University – Tulsa on April 8th and remain until the 16th. It will then move to Rogers State University in Claremore for a showing from April 19th to the 30th. The exhibit will return to Tulsa for a showing at OU - Tulsa, Schusterman Center, May 3rd to May 14th.

Helen Suzman was one of South Africa's most vociferous and energetic opponents of apartheid. She takes pride of place among those liberals who devoted their lives to the fight for human rights and the rule of law in South Africa. From the start of a political career that spanned almost four decades, she worked tirelessly, never flinching from challenging the pernicious system created by apartheid.

"The indomitable spirit of Helen Suzman was a gift to South Africa and the world. A stalwart of the anti-apartheid struggle, she was a true heroine who contributed to our country's peaceful transition when many predicted a racial blood bath. Through her dignified, steadfast—and for a long period, single handed—parliamentary opposition to National Party apartheid rule, she shone a light for justice and accountability."
